

ARIZONA DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

August 2024

Dear Arizona Teachers, Counselors and School Administrators:

For more than 20 years, the Arizona Department of Education has been both a supporter and a sponsor of the Association of Construction Career Development. It is a non-profit organization that organizes and oversees Arizona Construction Career Days (AZCCD) and assists students who would like to consider careers in construction.

The Arizona Department of Education has been proud to work with Arizona Construction Career Days over the years. Together we have helped forge strong relationships in support of Career and Technical Education opportunities that effectively serve both students and Arizona's construction industry.

This year's AZCCD events are scheduled for:

November 7 and 8, 2024 – Live Event

8:00 AM until 2:00 PM

AZCCD is the largest workforce development two-day event supporting the construction industry, CTE education, apprenticeship programs and two- and four-year education programs. Last year construction career days had 5,147 high school students registered and 275 teachers/counselors in attendance. School participation included 11 out of 15 Arizona counties

We sincerely encourage you to explore the events and services that Arizona Construction Career Days offers. We believe you will find them quite beneficial in preparing your students for exciting and rewarding careers.

Arizona Construction Career Days also publishes a Career Guide that can serve as a handy resource throughout the year. You can visit <https://azccd.com> to see the latest edition.
